Eastwood Bank wins Alfred P. Sloan Award for Winona County

ROCHESTER, MINNESOTA – Eastwood Bank was awarded the 2011 Alfred P. Sloan Award for Business Excellence in Workplace Flexibility for Winona County.

The Sloan Award is given to employers who use workplace flexibility as a tool to enhance business and employee success. Award winners must rank in the top 20% of U.S. employers in terms of their programs and practices for creating effective and flexible workplaces. In 2009, 449 awards were presented to employers across the nation.

“We are very proud to receive this award,” said Joleen Mittelstadt, Human Resource Officer for Eastwood Bank. “We understand that employees have a lot to manage in their day-to-day lives, so we take great pride in creating a culture that allows staff flexibility to accommodate both their personal and professional lives.”

Eastwood Bank operates four offices in Rochester, and additional branch offices in Stewartville, Eyota, Kasson, St. Charles, Rollingstone, Winona and Houston. The Bank reported assets of $500 million as of March 31, 2011.
